

I just got back from the floor. Take a look at my speech below. In it, I address some of the most glaring problems with the Democratic budget proposal. Should we believe what they say or what they do? Or neither? I just got back from the floor. Take a look at my speech below. In it, I address some of the most glaring problems with the Democratic budget proposal.

Should we believe what they say or what they do? Or neither?